Biographical sketch extracted from:

Biographical and historical record of Adams and Wells counties, Indiana. Chicago: Lewis Publishing Co., 1887. p. 694-695.

PETER BAILEY, deceased, was born in Trumbull County, Ohio, May 29, 1818, son of Jacob and Barbara (Rupright) Bailey, early settlers of that county. He learned the carpenter's trade when a young man, and worked at that business for some time after coming to this county. He was reared to industrious and economical habits and always saved his money. In 1827 Jacob Meyer, with his wife Catherine, came from Lehigh County, Pennsylvania, and settled near Lordstown. They were the parents of ten children --- Nathan, Daniel, Polly, Catherine, Sarah, Lovina, Eliza and Lydia; two are deceased. Lydia Meyer became the wife of our subject in April, 1842, and they began housekeeping near the village of Lordstown, where Peter had purchased twenty acres of land. Six of their children were born in Ohio--Sarah, wife of William Goldner; Mary, wife of Jacob Loo; Catherine, now Mrs. Calvin Spencer; Elizabeth, wife of Christian Loo; Jacob, who married Mary Rodgers, of Lockport, New York, and residing at Paulding Center, Ohio; George, who married Emma Lamb, and living at Uniondale. The following were born in Union Township--Joseph E., who married Annie Lepper; Eliza, wife of Isaac Christlieb; Matilda, wife of John Burnside, and Jennie, wife of Levi Shorey. Mr. Bailey removed to this county with his family in 1851, settling upon the farm where his widow now resides. A poor log cabin and one acre cleared were all the improvements that had been made, as the land was situated on the Indian Reserve, which had been open for settlement only a short time. A part of the cabin had no floor, and for several years they lived in a very primitive way. He was able to pay cash for his land, and being the happy possessor of a watch, sold that to his father, who moved the family here, for money enough to buy a cow. While the wife and children were picking brush and rolling up the smaller logs, Peter was working hard at his trade. Their meat was wild game. Wolves howled around the cabin at night, and the babes would nestle closer to their good mother's side as the mournful notes rose high on the midnight air. They could not then foresee that in a few short years railroads would pass so near to them, and that enterprising towns would spring up, where there was nought but an unbroken forest and not a settler's cabin could be seen. They came to the township over the plank road leading from Fort Wayne to Bluffton, and the early settler depended on the ax to clear a road to the land owned by each; and had they not carried a compass, [sic] would frequently have been lost in the woods. Mr. Bailey was one of the first supervisors in the township, and helped to clear up the line and locate the roads running in both directions from his land. During his later years he devoted his time entirely to his farm, and at his death, which occurred May 15, 1873, left a quarter-section of land to his family. He was a member of the Lutheran church, and was one of the first to assist in the establishment of that church in the neighborhood. He was highly respected and his loss was deeply regretted. His wife is now sixty-six years of age, is yet sprightly and cheerful. She resides on the homestead, which is managed by her grandson, Edward L. Goldner.

Extracted from: Biographical Memoirs of Wells County, Indiana, B. F. Bowen, 1903. Pages 587-588.

Among the most prosperous young farmers of Rock Creek township, Wells county, Indiana, is William H. Taylor, a native of Ohio, who was born November 28. 1850, and is a son of Isaac and Sarah A. (Cox) Taylor, of English descent. William Taylor, grandfather of William H. Taylor, was but 18 years of age when he left England and landed in the United States after a six-weeks voyage, with but fifty cents, or its equivalent, in his pocket. He soon found employment, however, but notwithstanding his good fortune he could not reconcile himself to the surrounding circumstances, become lonesome and longed to be home again. But lack of means prevented his return to his native land at that time and he sought a home in New Jersey, across the river from the mercantile metropolis of the Union. In New Jersey Mr. Taylor met and married Amy Lewellen, a native of the state, and for a livelihood for some time cut and marketed wood, but as the star of empire at that time had a strong tendency to "westward wend its way," Mr. Taylor was not slow to yield to its guiding influence and by its ray was lighted as far as the state of Ohio, whence he came to Indiana several years later and about 1849 settled in Wells county, where his death took place when he was about ninety years old. Isaac Taylor, son of William and father of William H. Taylor, was born, reared and married in Ohio and came to Indiana about 1851. He settled on the present farm in Rock Creek township, on which he passed the remainder of his life. Of his family of five sons and two daughters, three are still living, William H., whose name opens this record; Ezra, who lives in Montpelier, Ohio, and Newton, who has his residence in Fort Wayne.

William H. Taylor was a mere babe when brought to Wells county, Indiana, and here he was reared in the swamp forests of the wilderness of Rock Creek township. When old enough he attended either the subscription or district schools of the neighborhood, at which he acquired a fair education, considering the limited literary advantage offered by the pedagogue of the region. But he had a retentive memory, and, being apt at his lessons, succeeded better than the average boy. However, farm duties early called young Taylor away from school and in these, child as he was, he took a manly part. His father had died and his elder brothers were in the army, assisting in quelling the Rebellion, so that, until he was twenty-one years old, the lad continued to be the mother's sole aid and comfort.

On January 26, 1879, William H. Taylor was joined in marriage with Miss Martha J. Mullies, a native of North Carolina, who was born in Iredell county, that state, June 15, 1861, the daughter of William and Rebecca (Nicholson) Mullies, who moved to Indiana when Mrs. Taylor was about six years old. This union has been fruitful in the birth of six children, all still living, viz: Cora E., born March 19, 1880, married Curtis E. Wolfcale and lives in Wells county; William L., who was born May 15, 1881, is unmarried and still has his home under the paternal roof; Nettie Pearl, born May 22, 1883; Chester E., born March 29, 1886; Maudie A., born October 25, 1887, and Charles M., born August 28, 1889.

The Taylor family are members of the Methodist Episcopal church and donated to the congregation the ground on which the present church edifice has been erected. Of this church Mr. Taylor is one of the trustees and for several years was the sexton. In politics Mr. Taylor is a substantial Republican, is very popular with his party and the general public and has served his fellow townsmen as supervisor several terms to the great satisfaction of all concerned.

Biographical Sketch extracted from:

Biographical and Historical Record of Adams and Wells Counties, Indiana

Chicago: Lewis Publishing Co., 1887 pp.1001

George Mixell, hotel and livery keeper at Uniondale, was born in Mahoning County, Ohio, December 16, 1853, son of Daniel and Elizabeth(Martin)Mixell, natives of Pennsylvania. In 1854, the family removed to Stark County, and a few months later to Wells County, Indiana, settling at Bluffton. Four years afterward they removed to a farm near the then small town. In 1860 the father purchased a small farm in Rock Creek Township, where he built a house and passed the remainder of his days. His wife is living with her son , Joseph. Their children were- Lucy, Catherine, George, Joseph and Daniel. Catherine married David Scott, who is deceased; Lucy married Charles Osgood, and is also deceased; Joseph married Harriet Wolf, and resides on the old homestead. George was employed in the milling business in this county several years during his early life. November 27, 1826, he married Miss Sadie, daughter of Benjamin and Susan Netterfield, Rev. McCormack performing the ceremony. They commenced their married life in the little village of Greenwood, and the next year removed to a farm in Rock Creek Township. One year later they returned to Greenwood and in 1883, Mr. Mixell built a commodious residence in Uniondale. In 1884 its hospitable doors were thrown open to the traveling public, and it became the first hotel in the thriving village of Uniondale. In connection with this hotel Mr.Mixell has a nice livery, and enjoys the distinction of being the first in that business. Mr.and Mrs. Mixell have four children- Effie and Lucy are living, Freddie and Bessie are deceased. Lucy, the youngest, was born in the new hotel, and Effie on the farm in Rock Creek Township. The two deceased were born in Greenwood. Mr. Mixell is a popular host, and his estimable wife is one of the best landladies. Their home affords fine accomodations for a village of the size of Uniondale, and the weary traveler finds there a warm welcome and the best of cheer. Mrs. Mixell was born in Ashtabula County,Ohio, near Jefferson. She had eleven brothers and sisters, all of whom came to Indiana are living. Harmon Northfield, the eldest brother, held the fortunate number that drew $15,000 cash in the Louisiana State Lottery. He is a resident of Greenwood, where the mother still lives.

(NOTE: The marriage date of George Mixell was printed on the page as 1826. This is an obvious typographical error.-R.M.)

Notes for John Bailey:
[Our Family Tree.ged]

John Baley, farmer and stock raiser, is a native of Trumbull (now Mahoning) Co., OH, born Oct. 16, 1827. His parents Jacob and Maria B. (Rupright) Baley, were both natives of PA, the father born Apr. 13, 1796 in Berks Co, and the mother born July 30, 1793 in Northampton Co. The paternal ancestors were of German descent, and among the early residents of PA, the grandparents Peter and Susan (Lime) Baley, having been born and raised in that State. The maternal grandparents, George and Barbara (Scwakin) Rupright, were also natives of PA and of German lineage. Jacob Baley, subjects's father, was by occupation a farmer and weaver. He was married Apr. 14, 1816 to Mariah Rupright, who departed this life in 1852. The following year in Mahoning Co., OH he married his second wife, Catharine Emmons. He emigrated to OH in 1818, lived there until 1867, at which time he moved to IN and settled in Hungtinton Co. John Baley was reared a farmer and in early youth attended the common schools in which he acquired an education in both German and English languages. At the age of eighteen he began to learn the carpenter's trade and after becoming proficient in the same, followed it for a period of twenty-four consecutive years, meeting with encouraging success in the meantime. In the spring of 1852, he came to Huntington Co., and subsequently returned to OH, and resumed his trade, which he continued for some years in connection with the saw-milling business. At the end of about ten years he returned to Huntington Co. and purchased 200 acres of land in Section 2, Rock Creek Township which he subsequently exchanged for a farm near his native home in OH, returning to that State and remaining there for about one year. At the end of that time he again came to Huntington Co. and purchased in Rock Creek Township, 194 acres of valuable land in Section 4, near the village of Brown's Corners. He has a fine property and is justly considered one of the substantial citizens of Rock Creek. In connection with his farming interest he has worked at his trade from time to time, erecting many of the best barns and residences in the township, and a large flouring mill on the Walbash River. He married, Aug. 13, 1848 to Hannah Polk, a native of PA, and daughter of John and Mary (Fullwiler) Polk. She was born Jun. 14, 1828 and died Sept. 4, 1883. She was the mother of one child, Mary E. Mr. Baley married his present wife, Ella J. Lesh, on the 12th day of June 1884. Mrs. Baley was born in Crawford Co., PA, Dec. 10, 1860, and is the daughter of David & Lucretia (Jackson) Lesh. Politically Mr. Baley votes with the Democratic Party, and in religion is a Lutheran, having identified himself with that church when but thirteen years of age.

Notes for George W. Bailey:
[Our Family Tree.ged]

George lived twp houses away from his dad, Jacob. His daughter Sarah was to marry William Pasko 5 years later, after he was widowed; he was 21 years her senior.

George Bailey, the subject of this sketch, the eighth son of Jacob and Mary B. (Rubright) Bailey, was born in Trumbull, now Mahoning County, Ohio, on the 28th day of January, 1830. He was reared to manhood on his father's farm, received a limited education in such schools as the country afforded, and having early manifested a decided taste for mechanical pursuits, took up the carpenter's trade at the age of eighteen, and worked at the same at intervals until attaining his majority. He then began contracting and building, in which he met with encouraging success, working at the same in his own State until the spring of 1851. At that time he visited Huntington County, Ind., and the fall of the following year purchased a tract of timber land in Wells County, to which he moved in the fall of 1853, being at that time an unmarried man. During the summer of 1854 he worked at his trade, and until his marriage lived with his brother. He moved to his land in 1854, went to work with a will, and in due time cleared a good farm, upon which he lived until 1866, when he abandoned agricultural pursuits and engaged in the mercantile business at the town of Markle. He was thus engaged until 1869, at which time he disposed of his mercantile business and for some time thereafter was interested in a patent right, which did not prove successful. Losing by the last venture, he again took up the carpenter's trade, which he followed with good success until 1873, when he purchased his present farm in Union Township, where he has since resided. His place is under a high state of cultivation, supplied with good buildings, and is one of the best farms in Union. Mr. Bailey is a public spirited citizen, alive to everything that pertains to the good of the township, and has the esteem and confidence of all who know him. He has been twice married, the first time, October 19, 1852, to Miss Nancy J. Hersey, of Zanesville, Ohio, daughter of William and Emily (Linn) Hersey. Mrs. Bailey was born September 30, 1835, and was the mother of ten children, five of whom are now living; viz.: George H., James M., Sarah R., wife of William Pasco, Lottie J., and Martha E. Mrs. Bailey died April 3, 1881. December 29, 1881, Mr. Bailey's second marriage was solemnized with Miss Lona Mitten, daughter of James and Sarah (Price) Mitten, parents respectively of England and Ohio. Mrs. Bailey was born in the town of Warren, Huntington Co., Ind., July 7, 1849. Mr. Bailey is a Democrat in politics, and a worthy member of the Lutheran Church. Mrs. Bailey is a member of the Baptist Church.

Notes for Joseph Seaman:
Biographical and historical record of Adams and Wells counties, Indiana. Chicago: Lewis Publishing Co., 1887. p. 810-813.

JOSEPH SEAMAN, of Zanesville, was born in Berks County, Pennsylvania, November 19, 1816, son of John and Elizabeth (Loeb) Seaman, also natives of Pennsylvania. John Seaman was a son of Eberhardt Seaman, who was born in Germany. His wife was also born in Germany, and they were married in that country. They immigrated to America and were among the earliest settlers of Berks County. They had five children—Jonathan, George, John and Elizabeth; the name of the other child is unknown. The children all lived and died in Pennsylvania, except the youngest, who moved to Maryland. Joseph removed to Trumbull County, Ohio, in the spring of 1836, where he married Maria Bailey, daughter of Jacob and Barbara (Rupright) Bailey, of Lehigh County, Pennsylvania. Her parents had nine children—Peter, John, George, Maria, Elizabeth, Susanna, Barbara, Catherine and Sarah. They were all reared and married in Ohio. Mr. Seaman, after his marriage, worked at the carpenter's trade until he removed to Indiana in 1854, although he had a farm. Their children were all born in Ohio, and all came with them to this State. Mary A. married Lewis Raber; Sarah A. married William Raber, and died in 1855; Eliza became the wife of Noah Blouser; Jonathan married Betty McBride; George A. married Maria Schunk; Adaline married Jacob Kaiser; Angeline married Daniel Shoup; William H. married Kate Kaiser; Emanuel R. married Clara J. Bechtel. Only four of these children are living—Jonathan, Adaline, Mary and Eliza. Adaline and Angeline were twins. When Mr. Seaman came to Union Township in 1851 he settled upon the farm that he now owns. A small frame house had been built, and fifty acres partially cleared. His wife died March 18, 1883, and February 10, 1884, he married Mrs. Hannah Rupright, daughter of William and Susan (Furney) Shepler. They settled in the village of Zanesville, and have resided there ever since. Mr. Seaman made the first land appraisalment in Union Township under the new law, and has also served as trustee of the township. He was one of the founders of the Lutheran church in Union Township, and his labor aided largely in its establishment. From its organization in 1860 he has been an elder, and was clerk for many years. Politically he is an earnest Democrat, and never loses faith in the ultimate success of his party. Of the children of his parents, Catherine married Samuel Stein, and resides at Caledonia, Michigan; Benjamin married Elizabeth Kauffman; Reuben, deceased, married Catherine Loeb, and after her death, her cousin, Sarah Loeb, also deceased.[Our Family Tree.ged]

Farmer

Extracted from: Biographical Memoirs of Wells County, Indiana, B. F. Bowen, 1903. Pages 587-588.

Among the most prosperous young farmers of Rock Creek township, Wells county, Indiana, is William H. Taylor, a native of Ohio, who was born November 28. 1850, and is a son of Isaac and Sarah A. (Cox) Taylor, of English descent. William Taylor, grandfather of William H. Taylor, was but 18 years of age when he left England and landed in the United States after a six-weeks voyage, with but fifty cents, or its equivalent, in his pocket. He soon found employment, however, but notwithstanding his good fortune he could not reconcile himself to the surrounding circumstances, become lonesome and longed to be home again. But lack of means prevented his return to his native land at that time and he sought a home in New Jersey, across the river from the mercantile metropolis of the Union. In New Jersey Mr. Taylor met and married Amy Lewellen, a native of the state, and for a livelihood for some time cut and marketed wood, but as the star of empire at that time had a strong tendency to "westward wend its way," Mr. Taylor was not slow to yield to its guiding influence and by its ray was lighted as far as the state of Ohio, whence he came to Indiana several years later and about 1849 settled in Wells county, where his death took place when he was about ninety years old. Isaac Taylor, son of William and father of William H. Taylor, was born, reared and married in Ohio and came to Indiana about 1851. He settled on the present farm in Rock Creek township, on which he passed the remainder of his life. Of his family of five sons and two daughters, three are still living, William H., whose name opens this record; Ezra, who lives in Montpelier, Ohio, and Newton, who has his residence in Fort Wayne.

William H. Taylor was a mere babe when brought to Wells county, Indiana, and here he was reared in the swamp forests of the wilderness of Rock Creek township. When old enough he attended either the subscription or district schools of the neighborhood, at which he acquired a fair education, considering the limited literary advantage offered by the pedagogue of the region. But he had a retentive memory, and, being apt at his lessons, succeeded better than the average boy. However, farm duties early called young Taylor away from school and in these, child as he was, he took a manly part. His father had died and his elder brothers were in the army, assisting in quelling the Rebellion, so that, until he was twenty-one years old, the lad continued to be the mother's sold aid and comfort.

On January 26, 1879, William H. Taylor was joined in marriage with Miss Martha J. Mullies, a native of North Carolina, who was born in Iridle county, that state, June 15, 1861, the daughter of William and Rebecca (Nicholson) Mullies, who moved to Indiana when Mrs. Taylor was about six years old. This union has been fruitful in the birth of six children, all still living, viz: Cora E., born March 19, 1880, married Curtis E. Wolfcale and lives in Wells county; William I., who was born May 15, 1881, is unmarried and still has his home under the paternal roof; Nettie Pearl, born May 22, 1883; Chester E., born March 29, 1886; Maudie A., born October 25, 1887, and Charles M., born August 28, 1889.

The Taylor family are members of the Methodist Episcopal church and donated to the congregation the ground on which the present church edifice has been erected. Of this church Mr. Taylor is one of the trustees and for several years was the sexton. In politics Mr. Taylor is a substantial Republican, is very popular with his party and the general public and has served his fellow townsmen as supervisor several terms to the great satisfaction of all concerned

He was married in Trumbull County, to Miss Belinda Wolfcale, a native of that county. To them were born ten children, all of whom came with them to Wells County, Indiana, in 1851. CHRISTOPHER BAKER, one of the old and honored pioneers of Wells County, who is now deceased, was a native of Baden, Germany, born in the year 1804, a son of William and Barbara Baker. When he was sixteen years of age his father died, after which he served an apprenticeship at the tailor's trade. He then served two years in the army, when he was discharged on furnishing a substitute. He was united in marriage in 1827, to Miss Elizabeth, a daughter of Philip M. Zimmerman, of Baden, Germany. They remained in their native country until 1835, when they set sail for America, and after a voyage of eight weeks landed at Baltimore, Maryland. He followed his trade at Baltimore for five years, when he removed with his family near the Pennsylvania State line, sixty-four miles from the city of Baltimore, where he followed his trade during the winter months, and in the summers worked as a laborer for three and a half years. He then removed to Crawford County, Ohio, where he made his home until coming to Wells County, Indiana, September 21, 1851. He then purchased 182 acres of unimproved land on section 6, Rock Creek Township, and after clearing and improving thirty acres he traded his land for the farm on section 9, Rock Creek Township, which is now owned and occupied by his son-in-law, William Wolf, where he spent the remainder of his life. He died June 20, 1880, his death being a source of universal regret throughout the township where he had made his home for so many years. His wife died February 5, 1877, at the age of seventy-eight years. Both were earnest members of the Lutheran church. In his political views he was a Democrat. Of the four children born to Mr. and Mrs. Baker three are deceased—Frederick, Philip and Annie. The only surviving member of the family is Mary L., now the wife of William Wolf.[becker germany.FBK]

Corll Family

"Samuel and Catherine plus an infant son are buried in row five [Old North Cemetery]. Rupright is a common family name of a respected family in the Austintown and Canfield township areas. The family is connected to the Corll family through the great-grandparents: Peter Bailey and Susannah Lynn Bailey.

Peter and Susannah had three children, two of whom married into the Rupright family. Jacob Bailey married Maria Barbara Ripright. Catherine, who is listed above, married Samuel. A second daughter, Barbara (row 10) married John Corl, Senior, the great-grandfather to many of the Corlls living in the same area. There has been much research into the Rupright family which extends its roots to Henry Rupright and wife Catherine Billman of Wertemburg, Germany of the 18th century. Henry and Catherine came to America and settled in Lynn Twp., Pennsylvania. This is where they resided and are buried. A son, George Rupright, was born in Lynn Twp., around 1755-1758. George served in the Revolutionary War. He died in Lynn Twp. in 1817. The family migrated to Ohio in 1828 (probably with George's wife, Barbara, who died in Trumbull Co. on November 11, 1836) and settled in Canfield. One son married Mollie Kreckloe and moved to Lordstown, Ohio. Another son and daughter, Samuel and Maria Barbara, stayed in Canfield. The other sons and daughters residences are not known at this time. They are John George, Jacob, who married E. Yenser, George Junior, who has a daughter, Mary, buried in row 13, Andreas and Eva who married a John Arndt. The first son, Henry Junior, had a son William, 1st, who moved to Starke Co., Ohio in 1837 where the Rupright descendants are numerous. Some of these descendants later moved to Michigan to towns such as Sturgis, Bronson and Coldwater."

But don't forget that Zimmermann is a very popular name, as all names which bases on professions: Zimmermann means carpenter.

As I am in contact with people in Graben, Baden I know that they found an original diary of Emanuel Zimmermann (b 16 nov 1824, d 19 may 1871, married to Maria Katharina Kammerer on 8 jan 1852 in Graben) which will be published soon (in german). He had a cousin Friedrich Zimmermann, which came from North Amerika to Graben with his daughter for a visit in 1860, as it is mentioned in this diary.

Hope I could help somebody. Happy Hunting, Angelika
