

Miller Cemetery

Located about 7 miles south of Jamestown off of highway 127. Turn left onto Woolridge Schoolhouse Rd. Turn left at Wariner Rd. Keep going left and follow the road back to the cemetery. The Cemetery is on a hill just past Wariner Cemetery. The Miller Cemetery doesn't have a name posted on it. This cemetery was not plotted in straight rows. Therefore I tried the best I could to keep the positions of the graves in the best order that I could.

Abstracted by Christine A. "Chris" Capenwell of Noblesville, Indiana. In 2001. In honor of my ancestors, the "Wells", Blankenship's, Downey's and many more".

Field Stone

Emma M. Blankenship, Wells	1885	April 12, 1921
----------------------------	------	----------------

Scratched in a fieldstone with a large tree stump growing out of the grave. (Emma died in childbirth trying to give birth to twin girls. Verda and Verla Wells. The twins were born and died April 12, 1921). I believe that the twins are buried with Emma. She was the 3rd wife of John Cris Wells.
