There seems to have been close connections between the Whittle, Polston and Brummett families. Looking at the Nancy Whittle family, 287 enumeration, it appears probable that Elizabeth Brummett(age 25) was a Whittle daughter married to a Brummett (probably deceased) with her children James(age 9) and Mason (age 3). It is not likely that she was the mother of William (age 14), but she could have been his stepmother, if she had been the second wife of a Brummett.

Nancy could have been a free person of color. In the 1860 Census, there were a Richard Whittle and a Mahaley Whittle in the household, with both being listed as mulatto.

Could we be of Melungeon descent?

Brummetts were living in Clinton and Cumberland counties of KY prior to 1850.

Here are some facts about William Brummet of Russell Co., KY which may be of use to those of you researching the Brummett family.

William Brummet born about 1836 in KY. He married Deborah J. Poulson/Polston 15 December 1858 in Russell Co., KY, daughter of Paul and Elizabeth Poulson/Polston.

Child of William Brummett and Deborah Polston:

Alvis Brummett, born about 1859 in Russell Co., KY

Remember that early Kentucky Counties were formed from established Virginia Counties before Kentucky's statehood in 1792. The last Virginia County to be established was Woodford, which later became Woodford County, KY. Lincoln, Fayette, and Jefferson were the first three Kentucky Counties carved from Kentucky County, Virginia. Also Remember that early records may be in a parent county; county boundaries changed frequently in the early days; and people moved more frequently than we may think.

Consider events that may be recorded in counties other than where they lived, e.g., it was quite common for people to marry in a neighboring county seat, or in the county seat of the bride's home rather than the groom's

- if the two lived in different counties. So be warned! If at first you don't find them, look for ancestors in a
 - neighboring county - or even a neighboring state.

PULASKI Co., KY 1799

was the 27th county formed in Kentucky. It was created by an act of the General Assembly, December 10, 1798 - to begin June, 1799 - out of territory belonging to Lincoln and Green counties. The assembly named the county in honor of Count Casimir Pulaski, a Polish patriot and brigadier general in the U. S. Army during the American Revolution.

Since the creation of Pulaski County, several changes have been made to her boundary.

The first change was when Wayne County was formed and part was taken from Pulaski's territory on December 18, 1800. When Rockcastle County was created in 1810, another section was taken from it.

Then on February 20, 1825, a part of Pulaski was added to Whitley. Again a part of Pulaski was added to Wayne, January 6, 1831. The last change was made in 1912, when McCreary was formed from parts of Pulaski, Wayne, and Whitley.

Pulaski County today is bounded on the east by Rockcastle and Laurel counties, on the south by McCreary and Wayne, on the west by Russell and Casey and on the north by Lincoln. It lies in the foothills of the Cumberland Mountains and is drained by the Cumberland and South Fork rivers, Pitman, White Oak, Buck, Lyne, Cold Water and Fishing creeks. SOMERSET was selected as the name for the county seat. According to a legend, the county seat was named after Somerset, England. The 40 acres making up the town were divided into 80 lots, four of which were set aside for a public square. The plan for the town was not recorded, "owing to neglect." until Jan. 16, 1820. On the designated land was a spring, the town's water system. The path or street by which the spring was reached became the main street of Somerset - Spring Street (Vine Street).

When it was created, its southern boundary reached the Tennessee line. In the Thirteenth Biennial Report of the Commission of Agriculture, 1898-99, it was listed as the largest county in the state, with a length of 40 miles from north to south and 30 miles from east to west. Pulaski is now the third largest county in the state, having an area of 401,920 acres or 628 square miles.

WAYNE Co., KY 1800

The 43rd county in order of formation, is located in the south-central section of Kentucky along the state border with Tennessee. Created in 1800 from parts of Pulaski and Cumberland Counties, it was named in honor of Gen. Anthony WAYNE, Revolutionary War hero.

The county is divided into three distinct physical regions; the Cumberland Plateau, the level plain in the southeastern part of the county; the Knobs, rolling plains that run through the center of the county; and the Pennyroyal or Mississippi Plateau, the northwestern part of the county.

Pioneer Long Hunters visited what was to become Wayne County in 1770 and established a camp near Mill Springs, a few miles north of today's county seat, MONTICELLO. In 1775 Benjamin PRICE built a cabin and established a camp near Mill Springs. PRICE'S STATION was one of Kentucky's first permanent settlements. Joshua JONES, one of the most prominent first settlers, came in 1794; Jonathan and James INGRAM in 1796; Cornelious PHILLIPS in 1798; and Isaac WEST, James SIMPSON, Nicholas LLOYD and Henry GARDNER in 1799. Between 1800 and 1810 a large number of families arrived.

Bordered by: CLINTON, RUSSELL, PULASKI and McCREARY Counties in KY and Pickett County, Tennessee.

ADAIR Co., KY 1801

Adair was the 44th Kentucky county formed, created from Green County on December 11, 1801 and named for General John Adair. It is located in the eastern Pennyrile region and western Appalachian areas of the state. The county seat is COLUMBIA.

Adair is bordered by Cumberland, Metcalfe, Green, Taylor, Casey and Russell Counties.

ROCKCASTLE Co., KY 1810

was formed in 1810 from parts of Lincoln, Madison and Pulaski Counties. It is located in the Pennyrile and Eastern Coal Field regions of the state. Mount Vernon, the county seat of Rockcastle County, was founded in the late eighteenth century and named for George Washington's home. The settlement was originally known as White Rock, for a local rock formation, but it came to be known as Mount Vernon around 1810. The Mount Vernon post office opened in 1811. The progression of boundries for Rockcastle County was ongoing from 1810 till 1836.

Surrounded by Pulaski, Lincoln, Garrard, Madison, Jackson and Laurel Counties.

RUSSELL Co., KY 1826

was formed DECEMBER 14, 1825 from portions of Adair, Wayne and Cumberland Counties. It was named in honor of Col. William RUSSELL, a Revolutionary War officer who fought in the battle of Kings Mountain. The county seat is JAMESTOWN, located on US 127 hwy. Elevation ranges from 530 to 1140 ft. above sea level.

CLINTON Co., KY 1835

was formed in 1835 from Cumberland and Wayne Counties. It was named after DeWitt Clinton, a former New York City mayor and Governor of New York. Most records were lost in a courthouse fire in 1864. Another fire in 1980 destroyed some records. County seat is ALBANY.
Bordered by Cumberland, Russell and Wayne Co's in KY and Pickett Co., Tennessee.

McCREARY Co., KY 1912

formed in 1912 from parts of Pulaski, Wayne, and Whitley Counties. County seat is Whitley City.
Bordered by Wayne, Pulaski, Laurel and Whitley Co's in KY and SCOTT County, Tennessee
