Always Dreamed of Spending The

Night In A Research Library?

As a genealogists, one of your favorite places is a library. And, if you're researching West Virginia ancestors, there's no better place to research than the Archives & History Library in Charleston. Now West Virginia's statewide genealogy and history organization, the Mining Your History Foundation, is working with the library to bring you another night of unlimited research in the library's collections, microfilm, books, newspapers, maps, manuscripts, and more.

Discuss your research with other genealogists in a friendly atmosphere.

Tour and explore the "upper levels" where who-knows-what can be found.

Get help from the "experts" Wes Cochran, Sheri Pettit, Ester Warner, and other well-know West Virginia genealogists will be on-hand to offer help and guidance.

2007 SPECIAL SUPER SALE
