A Note From The Editor

Hello Members,

Happy New Year! We hope you and your family had a wonderful holiday season!

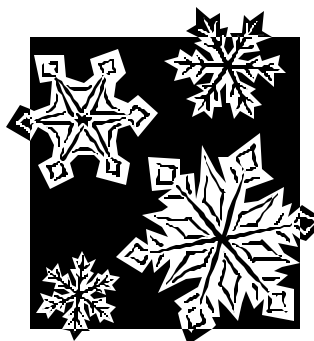

Just a reminder, if you have not already done so, please don't forget to pay your dues for 2007. The annual researchers issue will be printed in the in March/April 2007 edition of SCCOGS News and will only be sent to paid members. We wouldn't want you to miss it! If your dues are not paid, this will be the last newsletter you receive. Please check the page with your address to verify your expiration date.

We would like to welcome our new SCCOGS officers and thank those that are outgoing for their service. Please see page 4 for a word from our past President, Gladys Reynolds. Thank you Gladys, for all that you have done for SCCOGS! We thank you for accepting the position of SCCOGS Corresponding Secretary!

Do we have any volunteers?? SCCOGS is in need of volunteers to help with our current projects and/or in doing research lookups. Do you have a few moments you could spare? Please let one of the officers know. We would appreciate and seriously need your help!

Please note the new time for our meetings. Our meetings will now be held at 12:30 p.m. A vote was taken at the December meeting to change the meeting time. Also, our meeting place has been changed for the February meeting as well, because the Portsmouth Public Library was already taken.

With all that said, here's looking forward to a very productive and rewarding 2007!

HAPPY NEW YEAR!

Presidential Farewell

SCIOTO COUNTY CHAPTER OGS

Written by Gladys Reynolds, SCCOGS President 2000-2006

Six year Summary

It's the day of the meeting and poor Gladys May
Has laryngitis--though there's so much to say

She wants to review the last six years
But realizes her voice is too low for cheers

From 2001 to 2003
Most time was spent in a cemetery

Greenlawn, that is, and it's now in a book
She's most proud of that, though what work it took!

From 2004 to 2006
Our programs & projects were quite a mix

There were programs by authors and judges and such
On books and records and keeping in touch.

We recorded gravestones in Nile Twp. and Bloom
On many days tramping from morning til noon.

Our projects to record what we found on computer
Were keyed in by Joyce who couldn't be cuter!

We sold publications thanks to our Pat
Who printed and copied and kept track of that.

We now have an office--and old wills to store
Probate Court gifts from days of yore.

Now I've run out of words that will fit in a rhyme
And I'm out of days for a President's time

So here's to SCCOGS, our friends and all cousins
May ancestor searches find more by the dozens.

Thanks to all of you for your cooperation and volunteer work
I'm sure you will extend the same to Jan Edwards, your new President.

Thank you for Book Donation

Thank you to Jayne Kinker Rogers for donating a book she found in her grandmother's belongings. It is, "A History or Genealogy of The Pioneer Field Family Who Settled in Scioto County, Ohio in the Blue Run Neighborhood (Now Jefferson Township) early in the 1800s". It was prepared by Louis Abner McKinley in 1947-1955 and copied by Esther Ann McKinley in 1987. Jayne donates this book to SCCOGS in loving memory of her Grandparents, Everett Leroy Kinker and Ora Vern (Sloan) Kinker. The book will be placed in our holdings at the Portsmouth Public Library.

SCCOGS Donates Book

Rev. Dr. Stanley Webster, accepts the book, "A Dying Testimony, by Mrs. Julia Churchill Griswold. " on behalf of the people of First Presbyterian Church, from Mima Vita, member of the Scioto County Genealogical Society.

This publication came to be in the possession of The Scioto County Chapter of the Ohio Genealogical Society in 2005. The book was donated to SCCOGS by Ms. Marcia Knox. It was originally published in 1871. This is an original copy of the book, and while fragile, is still in fairly good condition.

The original publication has been donated to First Presbyterian Church in Portsmouth, Ohio, of which Mrs. Griswold was a member.

For Your Information..... News on Technology*NEW YEAR, NEW DEVELOPMENTS

Genealogy's two biggest businesses have made major changes:

* MyFamily.com has switched its name to The Generations Network, a moniker that better reflects its mission to "connect families across distance and time," says company president Tim Sullivan.

Last year saw some user-friendly changes at the company: For example, it gave members the ability to store genealogy records online and grant relatives free access to them, and made its immigration records collection--now including all available US passenger lists--free for two months.

"Our company was founded over two decades ago as a publisher of genealogy products. Today, we are a multibrand company focused on providing families with unique, interactive online experiences," Sullivan says.

The corporate Web site, now at <http://www.thegenerationsnetwork.com>, has a shiny new look and a nifty logo with a leaf as the tail of a g. A site overhaul is planned for early this year. The company's genealogy database sites Ancestry.com (<http://www.ancestry.com>) and Genealogy.com (<http://www.genealogy.com>), are unchanged so far.

* ProQuest, creator of the HeritageQuest Online genealogy databases (available to users through subscribing libraries), has sold that service along with the rest of its ProQuest Information and Learning division. Bethesda, Md.-based Cambridge Information Group is the buyer.

ProQuest endured a bumpy ride last year: In February, it announced accounting irregularities had caused an earnings overstatement of $80 million in less than five years. Then it faced backlash after discontinuing remote access to HeritageQuest Online through genealogical society Web sites. ProQuest sold its Business Solutions division in October.

ANOTHER APPLE ON THE TREE

Mac users, your genealogy software options have grown by one. iFamily for Tiger (Tiger, aka Mac OSX 10.4, is the most current Mac operating system, though Leopard is on its way) might be the answer if your family has lots of nontraditional relationships: It's designed to focus on individuals rather than family units. That means, for example, you can quickly see whether an individual has more than two parents or was married multiple times, and it's easy to designate step, adopted or foster parent-child relationships.

True to Mac style, another notable iFamily feature is image handling: The program has its own cropping/editing function, and an image transcription tool helps you record information from pictures of documents and tombstones. iFamily also gives you a search field in the toolbar to look for ancestors based on Name, Birth Date or Place, Cause of Death and other information.

iFamily for Tiger, a $29.95 download, won't run on pre-Tiger systems. Get a free trial at <http://ifamilyfortiger.com>.

Invitation to Attend the 2007 OGS Annual Conference

E. Paul Morehouse, Jr., President of the Ohio Genealogical Society, has issued the following invitation to genealogists throughout Ohio and beyond:

"On behalf of the Officers and the Board of Trustees of The Ohio Genealogical Society, I invite you to attend the 2007 Annual Conference, "Along the National Road: Your Avenue to the Past" in Columbus on April 12-14, 2007, at the Hyatt Regency Columbus.

"The 2007 program includes a broad range of presentations for all skill levels. We have scheduled over 50 programs with many nationally known speakers. In addition, the program committee has attempted to include some new faces to the OGS Conference, and we hope you will check them out. Workshops are also offered on Thursday evening for the early birds.

"The 2007 OGS Conference will offer you the opportunity to network with hundreds of other genealogists and historians. In addition, we will also have many genealogical exhibitors, OGS and Chapter displays offering the latest genealogical merchandise and publications.

"I hope you have considered applying for membership in one our three lineage societies: First Families of Ohio, Civil War Families, and Settlers and Builders of Ohio. All three societies will conduct induction ceremonies at the Conference. If you are interested in doing so, contact OGS for application forms.

"The Hyatt Regency Hotel in downtown Columbus is a great facility for our conference. It is not too far from the Ohio Historical Society.

"We expect this to be another great OGS Conference. We hope you will join us in a wonderful learning experience and have an opportunity to celebrate your ancestors' contribution to Ohio and American History. Come check out German Village and some of the other historic and cultural delights of Ohio's capital city!

"See you in Columbus!"
