A Note From The Editor

Hello Members,

I hope this edition of SCCOGS News finds you doing well.

I was provided with some copies of newspaper clippings that did I do not have dates for, but I found information in them which I hope you will find as interesting or humorous as I did, even though the date of the newspaper clipping was unavailable. I do know that they came from around the early 1900's from The Portsmouth Daily Times.

Be sure to check out the information below and on page 3 about the trip to the Greenup County Genealogy Conference, in lieu of our April Meeting. Also be sure to check out the information about the Annual OGS Conference on page 5.

Until the next edition, here's wishing the best for you and yours. May you find the answer to your "brick wall" at the upcoming genealogy conferences!

Notes from the March SCCOGS meeting:

Since the regularly February meeting had been cancelled because of bad weather, that meeting was rescheduled for March 10th, 2012. It was held at the Portsmouth Public Library at 10:00 a.m. with a total of 20 members and guests.

The business meeting consisted mostly of announcements including the following:

Work will continue on the Cemetery Project with inscriptions to be read in Vernon and Rush Townships. Volunteers willing to participate in this project please notify Jan Edwards, Jodi Wright or Pat Lacy.

We have been invited to have a car in the St. Patrick's Day Parade for the second year. Three members will ride in the car.

In lieu of the usual meeting in April, members will attend the Greenup County Genealogy Conference at Greenbo Lake which will be Friday, April 13th, and April 13th, our regular meeting day.

President Pat Lacy announced that we have been asked if we would be interested in helping to index the 1940 Census which is being released soon. A download and training from Family Search would be provided, and this computer indexing project could be done by individuals or as a Society. This could begin as early as the first week of April.

We will no longer be able to use the Meeting Room at the Portsmouth Public Library for meetings at 1:00 p.m. on Saturdays, due to a change in library scheduling. The Board is investigating whether we could meet there at an earlier time on the second Saturday or whether we could find another location for SCCOGS meetings.

Jodi Wright introduced the speaker who was Joan Smith of Circleville. Her topic was , "Identifying and Preserving Photos from 1840 to 1900."

Query / Greenup Co. Genealogy Conference Agenda

Looking for leads or clues to the last years of the life of my great-grandmother, Rebecca FANNIN, b. in 1850 in Wayne County, WV to Silas and Mary (FERGUSON) FANNIN.. Rebecca FANNIN married R. C. WORKMAN in 1868; they were divorced in 1877. The family believes Rebecca remarried and moved away after the divorce. Information we would like is: who she married 2nd; where they went; if they had children; when she died and where she was buried.

The connection to Scioto County is that Rebecca's younger sister, Calista FANNIN married Andrew J. DANIELS in Catlettsburg, KY in 1884. Their daughter, Alleta DANIELS, b. 1888, married Frank FEIRL and they relocated to Portsmouth, Ohio. Alleta FEIRL died in 1971 in Portsmouth. Alleta's sister was Dora DANIELS FOGEL. Can any of their descendants help us find more

Found in circa early 1900's newspaper article:

Watch Out for Al

Announcement: Al Major, portly and well known citizen has purchased a bicycle and will attempt to learn to ride the critter on Lower Market Square Friday afternoon, promptly at 2 o'clock. No admission fee will be charged and it is quite likely that a large crowd will assemble to witness the antics of the rider and machine. This announcement is made in the hope that any citizens of the First ward who feel the earth trembling Friday afternoon, will not become alarmed. It will simply be the natural consequence of one big body hitting the other.

GENEALOGICAL TAGLINES

I checked out my family tree. Just as I thought...poison ivy!
I collect dead relatives and sometimes a live cousin!
I looked into my family tree and found out I was a sap.
I shook my family tree, a bunch of nuts fell out.
I think I shall never see a completed Genealogy!
I trace family history so I will know who to blame!
I used to have a life, then I started doing genealogy.
I want to find ALL of them! So far I only have a few thousand.
I'd rather look for dead people than have 'em look for me.
I'm not stuck, I'm Ancestrally challenged!

I'm stuck in my family tree and can't get down!
Isn't genealogy fun? The answer to one problem leads to two more!
It's hard to be humble with ancestors like mine!

OGS ANNUAL CONFERENCE / NGS FAMILY HISTORY CONFERENCE

The theme of the 2012 annual conference is History and Genealogy: Finding Clues to Ancestral Lives. The conference will take place 12-14 April at the Intercontinental Hotel in Cleveland. The Western Reserve Historical Society announces that there will be extended hours at its Research Center during the OGS Conference. It will be open 10:00 am to 9:00 pm on Thursday, April 12, from 10:00 am to 5:00 pm on both Friday and Saturday, and open again on Sunday, April 15, from Noon to 5:00 pm. Plus, there will be free admission and free parking for OGS Conference attendees on those days. Just show your Conference registration documentation.

Research Center staff and volunteers will be on hand to assist you with your research during these hours and additional activities are being planned. The Genealogical Committee, an auxiliary of WRHS, will have a booth in the OGS Conference Exhibit Hall, describing the extensive genealogical research resources available at the WRHS Research Center, including the family history holdings, genealogical databases, ethnic history collections and more. Details about Genealogy Committee classes and seminars also will be available. Daily drawings will offer Conference attendees a chance to win their choice of free WRHS and Genealogical Committee memberships or free staff research time in the Research Center.

For information about WRHS, go to www.wrhs.org.

The OGS conference registration booklet is now online! The full color booklet gives you information regarding conference hotel, directions to the hotel, complete day-by-day listing of the speakers with their topics, and information regarding the Thursday workshops as well.

The workshops are fee-based. Only those who sign up for a particular workshop, and have the corresponding ticket, will be allowed in the room. Visit: www.ogs.org

The NGS 2012 Family History Conference will be held at the Duke Energy Convention Center in Cincinnati, Ohio. Mark your calendars for 9-12 May 2012.

The convention center is located in the heart of downtown Cincinnati, just blocks from I-71 and I-75 and 10 minutes from the Cincinnati/Northern Kentucky International Airport. The downtown area offers shopping, dining, theatre, a lively arts and music scene, and is just a short walk from the Ohio River.

Attendee registration is now open. <http://www.ngsgenealogy.org>

Two boys walking home from Sunday school after hearing a strong preaching on the devil. One said to the other, "What do you think about all this Satan stuff?" The other boy replied, "Well, you know how Santa Claus turned out. It's probably just your Dad."

Corrections to January/February Newsletter

I am a native of Portsmouth, Ohio; I am an author and history buff (the old west and war between the states – also known as the civil war).

I read with interest your article on Portsmouth and the CW, and while much of it is true, some of the facts have been twisted or omitted. To wit:

- You wrote early on, “Ohio had a huge role in determining the outcome of the CW,” and this is little more than patriotic myth. What really determined the outcome, as most historians agree upon, was sheer numbers in soldiers and war materiel the north had at its disposal. This cannot be overstated.
 - You describe Kentucky as a “slave” State, and indeed it was. What you left out was that it was a Union State, as were Maryland, Delaware, and Missouri, and also “slave” States.
 - You state on pg. 7, “Pres. Lincoln’s call to arms to protect the Union against insurgents...” What insurgents???
- This is largely a myth. Lincoln’s “call to arms” to raise 75,000 troops was done so that he could invade the south and force the seceded States back into the Union at bayonet’s point.
- On page 8, you write about Camp Chase as a training camp early in the war. You failed to mention that it then became a POW camp for Confederate prisoners. There is a cemetery there where part of the camp once stood. Like many POW camps in the north, prisoners were allowed to starve or freeze to death at Camp Chase.
 - You go on to say again, “some of the very first to answer Lincoln’s call on Apr. 15, 1861 for 75,000 volunteers to ‘defend the Union against the rebel threat,’” is pure nonsense (sorry). The only threat the rebels posed was that they were leaving the Union, and the 75,000 had to be raised to invade the south and thwart the secession of other States in the upper south and to force seceded States back into the Union. It had the reverse effect.
 - I could go on with some more inconsistencies I found, but don’t think it necessary.

The book I authored concerned letters of my ancestors written during the CW: http://www.amazon.com/Letters-John-Susan-Morgan-Everyday/dp/1439208832/ref=sr_1_1?ie=UTF8&qid=1328465144&sr=8-1

I have ancestors who fought on both sides of this most ridiculous and costly war in our history. I have most of their military records.

Also, Camp Chase, along with many other POW camps in the north, like Camp Douglas, Elmira, Ft. Lafayette, and Camp Morton (just to name a few), were where Lincoln’s civilian political prisoners? (there were 10’s of thousands of them) from states in the Union were incarcerated, and many allowed to die of starvation, disease or simply froze to death. Their tombstones at the mass graves at all of these camps bear witness to these atrocities.?

As far as brutality (on both sides) this war was like no other where nearly 700,000 lives were lost. In today’s population numbers it would equal almost five million lives. There is no way we can put a happy face on it.

Thanks for your time.

Masonic Temple Damaged by Fire

On January 23, 1912, the Masonic Temple at Portsmouth was badly damaged by fire, sustaining a loss of approximately $25,000.00, which fortunately was covered by insurance. The Lodge rooms of Aurora Lodge suffered no damage other than that occasioned by smoke.

Finding Your Roots with Henry Louis Gates, Jr.

Henry Louis Gates, Jr. is back with another one of his great specials, “Finding Your Roots”. He started this several years ago with “African-American Lives”. It was such a success this new 10 part series is the fourth reincarnation of the topic and NBC copied with their own version last winter.

It is a fascinating subject. We’d all like to know what are roots are. Unless you’re Native-American, most likely your family heritage starts somewhere other than here in America. I’ve often thought about how it must have felt to leave everything familiar to you behind to start over in a strange place. Years ago one of my mother’s relatives decided to trace the family heritage. She made a booklet and distributed it to all of us during a family gathering. I loved looking through the book, seeing the old pictures and getting a sense of my roots on my mother’s side.

“Finding Your Roots with Henry Louis Gates, Jr.” delves into the genealogy and genetics of an all new group of famous Americans. The series combines history and science in a fascinating exploration of race, family, and identity in today’s America. Each hour features a different pair of celebrity guests, who are bound together by an intimate, sometimes hidden link, whether it be as old friends, through long-lost relatives, or even through a common ancestral past. You never know who you’re related to unless you start looking.

“Finding Your Roots with Henry Louis Gates, Jr.” airs Sunday’s at 8:00pm beginning March 25, with encore presentations on Monday’s at 8:00pm beginning March 26 on WOSU PLUS.

WHO DO YOU THINK YOU ARE? - NBC’s genealogy series returns with it’s 3rd season on February 3rd at 8 p.m.

NBC's acclaimed alternative series "Who Do You Think You Are?" follows some of today's most beloved and iconic celebrities as they embark on personal journeys of self-discovery to trace their family trees. From Ireland's freedom fighters to the American Revolutionary War, and from the African nation of Cameroon to Bulgaria, this season will reveal the fabric of humanity through everyone's place in history. The celebrities featured in the third season are Martin Sheen, Marisa Tomei, Blair Underwood, Helen Hunt, Reba McEntire, Jerome Bettis, Rita Wilson, Edie Falco, Rob Lowe, Rashida Jones, Jason Sudeikis and Paula Deen.

During each episode, one of the celebrities is taken on a surprising and deeply emotional quest into his or her family history, resulting in a compelling reality format. Each week, viewers follow some of America's best-known celebrities into their ancestral pasts, as they uncover stories of heroism and tragedy, love and betrayal, secrets and intrigue that lie at the heart of their family history. At the same time, "Who Do You Think You Are?" celebrates the twists and turns of a great nation and the people who made their way here in search of freedom and opportunity. As each celebrity discovers his or her unknown relatives - most of whom overcame hard times, the show will take viewers back through world history to expose how the lives of everyone's collective ancestors have shaped our world today.

From executive producers Lisa Kudrow ("Friends," "Web Therapy") and Dan Bucatinsky ("Lipstick Jungle," "The Comeback") in conjunction with their production company, Is or Isn't Entertainment, and Shed Media U.S., the series is an adaptation of the award-winning hit British television documentary series from Wall to Wall Productions, created and executive-produced by Alex Graham. Jennifer O'Connell and Al Edgington also serve as executive producers.

Carey's Run Farmer Had Exciting Time / Information from Funeral Home Records

Carey's Run Farmer Had Exciting Time

From the Portsmouth Daily Times—circa 1908

John Bodmer, well known Carey's Run citizen and trustee of Washington township, unexpectedly ran into a peck of trouble at Union Mills Saturday afternoon.

Will driving homeward, John stopped in front of Selpzer's blacksmith shop to have his horse shod. He noticed quite a number of persons gathered within, including several women, more or less hilarious. A young man stepped up and offered his services. He seemed about the calmest of the bunch and John decided to take chances on him. He had not progressed far when John discovered he had not properly adjusted a shoe, and so told the young smithy. The latter wished John to a warmer climate and continued his work. John then commanded him to stop work on the horse. The young man did so, at the same time telling Bodmer to make himself and horse scarce instantly. Bodmer, undaunted, ordered the other to remove the nails from his horse's hoof. He had no sooner done so than the whole crowd charged down upon Bodmer, a wild-eyed woman in the lead. She chased Bodmer around his buggy several times, pelting him with her big fists every few steps. John finally managed to crawl into his buggy, whipped up his horse and escaped amid the hoots and jeers of all. It is said he expects to take action against his assailant, all of whom are new comers, having only recently moved to Union Mills
