Learn about the many facets of familysearch.org and how it can lead you to new discoveries about your ancestors. We will discuss the databases available, changes that are coming soon and tips on making your research successful.

FamilySearch™ is a computerized system of genealogical information. It is found on all floors in the library, at most Family History Centers in the United States and Canada, at the FamilySearch™ Center, and at a growing number of public and private libraries. To identify a public library near you with FamilySearch, telephone 801-240-2584.

The following computer files and programs are part of FamilySearch in the Family History Center:

- ❖ Ancestral File – Check family, pedigree and submitter information
- ❖ Census Records – Online extraction forms 1790 -1920
US 1880, British Isles 1881 and Canada 1881
- ❖ International Genealogical Index – Check family, pedigree and if submission is by family member or extraction
- ❖ Pedigree Resource File – Check index online and use CD records in FHC, look for submitters, sources and notes
- ❖ U.S. Social Security Death Index – as of 1 Sep 2007
- ❖ Vital Records Index – Denmark, Finland, Mexico, Norway, Sweden
- ❖ Family History Library Catalog – Place and Surname Searches
Digitized Record Sources
- ❖ Search Family History Web Sites – Still Developing, free website access list
- ❖ Personal Ancestral File – Free download, Genealogical Program
- ❖ U.S. Military Index – Available for Vietnam and Korean Wars
- ❖ Scottish Church Records – Parish Records

Look for tips on how to search each file available online.
