Everyone loves good food, and what better way to learn about a community than through its recipes! With both history and food in mind, the Five Hills Genealogical Society the Friends of Copperas Cove Public Library and the Copperas Cove Senior Citizen Center have gathered favorite recipes handed down through the generations to honor our diverse roots and our shared commitment to our adopted home, the City of Copperas Cove.

Our 130th birthday is coming up on March 24, 2009, and in celebration, we are offering this heritage Cookbook at the prepublication price of $12.00 (tax included) or five copies for $54.00.

Order copies now for yourself and your friends and family. This cookbook makes a great gift!
