The Letters of John Jay Good, Frontier Lawyer: A Case Study Using Manuscript Collections

Is your genealogy just names and dates and locations? Too dry? Come see an example of how searching manuscript collections can make your ancestor more alive and your genealogy more interesting. We'll learn of John Good's early history in Parker and Tarrant Counties. We'll see the battle over the county seat relived. Don't miss this example of what the little details can add.

NEW DAY: Tuesday, March 31, 2009

Central Branch, FW Library, 500 W. 3rd St.

Parking on the streets is free after 6 p.m. Come at 6:00 for Coffee

Brenda McClurkin, Archivist, comes to us from UTA in the Historical Manuscript Special Collections. Brenda has long had a passion for archives and historical research. She completed her Master's in Library Science degree at the University of Arizona in 1991, and worked 3 years at the State Library of Arizona heading the Federal Documents Unit. Moving to Texas in 1994, she was quick to volunteer her services in local archival collections of the Ball-Eddleman-McFarland House in Fort Worth, Weatherford College, and the Weatherford Public Library. She obtained an Archival Administration Certificate at The University of Texas at Arlington in 2000 and was admitted to the Academy of Certified Archivists in 2002. Brenda has served as the Historical Manuscript Archivist in Special Collections of the University of Texas at Arlington Libraries for six years.
