Family History Tips

Pedigree Resource File Update - FamilySearch just announced that the Pedigree Resource File (PRF) database has reached over 150 million searchable names. Along with the milestone achievement, a new feature has been added that allows users to view genealogical and extended information for deceased individuals in a familiar pedigree (family tree) format. Users can search or contribute their personal genealogies to the free database at

<http://www.familysearch.org>

Google Books search results are now integrated with WorldVitalRecords.com search results. - With this addition, researchers can search millions of out of print books from libraries around the world to find valuable information about family members. Search at: <http://www.worldvitalrecords.com/search.aspx>

Surname Queries

Does anyone know where I could find passenger list info on people leaving from New York in 1902 (not arriving). My wife has an ancestor going back to Germany to collect a son and daughter-in-law and bring them back to the USA in 1903. I have the arrival info but would like to know what info is available on the departure from New York. Please contact Daniel at sthiespoar@gmail.com

New Acquisitions

Map of the City of Nauvoo

"Ancestral Record of Thomas John Call and Ethel Grace Papworth, his Wife", by Pamela C. Johnson

CLUES (American Historical Society of Germans from Russia Periodicals: 1989-92, 1997. Nos. 102, 103, 105 (2001), 106, 107 (2002).

4. "The History and Family of Andreas Aikele and Ludawika Sauter, Including the Origin of the Aikele Family", compiled by Nancy Aikele Kimmerie, great granddaughter.

Remember...

Came across an entry in the local census of 1871 in Staffordshire, England, and I could just imagine the enumerator asking the head of household, "Any more children, Mr. Smith?"

Head of household replying, "Oh, our kid."

And there it was, child -- Oharkid Smith, age 3 months.

(Sounds better with a West Midlands, country accent though!)
