

Hello fellow Legacy users,

Have you ever found some information on your ancestor only to not understand what the cause of death might have been? Well give this website a try as it just might have an answer for you.

Don Finel

~~~~~
for the main page site = <http://www.antiquusmorbus.com/>

A Glossary of Archaic Medical Terms, Diseases and Causes of Death

The Genealogist's Resource for Interpreting Causes of Death.

Antiquus Morbus is a collection of archaic medical terms and their old and modern definitions. The primary focus of this web site is to help decipher the Causes of Death found on Mortality Lists, Certificates of Death and Church Death Records from the 19th century and earlier. This web site will be updated often and as new information is received. My intention is to collect and record old medical terms in all European languages. The English and German lists are the most extensive to date.

Each term is only listed once. Check under the other headings if the term is not in the alphabetical lists. Also, try the Google search tool below.

<<http://www.google.com/>> Google

Web www.antiquusmorbus.com

A message from the site:

Please send me an email with any unlisted words or phrases that you have. They will be added to the "undefined" page after review. All new terms will eventually be added to the alphabetical lists. Please include the language that the term is from.

email to: gapair@bellsouth.net?subject=AM Rudy's List

These lists contain the results of years of research, deciphering thousands of Church Death Records, Mortality Lists and other sources. Then finding definitions for each Cause of Death in my collection of antique medical books and online reference web sites. I welcome all inquiries and more than welcome any additional terms or definitions that are not presently included.

I am especially interested in definitions from various time periods that may contrast the changing meaning of the term over time.

~~~~~
English Glossary of Archaic Medical Terms, Diseases and Causes of Death

Make a selection from the column on the left or search for the term by using the Google search box

<http://www.antiquusmorbus.com/English/English.htm>